Announcements:

Building Progress: So far we have completed about 95% of the demolition work. This process has revealed a few challenges, which forced us to make some small changes to the layout we initially planned for, but everything we were hoping for in the finished results is still very possible, and even better in some cases. Next week we expect that the work crew will make the fun switch from destruction to construction!

Fundraising: Hopefully you have all received a letter by now, requesting that we all pitch in to help with the cost of the renovations. Please do take the time to consider giving generously to help this effort. And thank you to all of you who have already given!

Kerela India: You may have heard in the news last week about the devastating flooding in Kerela India which has already claimed the lives of hundreds of people there. This is the city in which our New Church friend, Rev. Peter Devasi and his congregation is located. Thankfully, he and his family are all alive and safe, while they help the rest of their city search for the many who are still missing. If you are interested in financially helping this group you can learn more at NewChurch.org under the tab called "Give". Peter and his family are very sweet and hard working. May our love and prayers travel the oceans and reach out to them in this time of need.

A Word for the Week

“Good gathers everyone together in the heavens, and angels are differentiated by what kinds of good they do. Still, it is not the angels who gather themselves, but the Lord, the source of all that is good. He leads them, unites them, differentiates them, and keeps them in freedom to the extent that they are engaged in what is good. So he keeps every individual in the life of his or her own love, faith, intelligence, and wisdom-and therefore in happiness.”

(Heaven and Hell 45)

Have a blessed week!
