To find out what they might need you can go to their registry at babylist.com/kortney-heinrichs .

◆ The New Website! Over the past week I have been able to dedicate some extra time (finally) to the new website. I think it will be up and running by the end of next week! Until then, you may see Susan and me taking some extra pictures of people at church, and when you do put on a nice big smile! - Alan

◆ (Relatively) Young People's BBQ

Mark your calendars for Saturday the 21st for a BYO-BBQ & Campfire. Just Bring your own meat to throw on the BBQ, your drink of choice, and a side to share. We'll have music and a campfire, and a few games to play. Kids are very welcome! Why not invite some friends?!!

Future Sermon Topics

Sun. January 8th

◆ 10:00am "Why Brokenness Precedes Rebirth". Sometimes falling apart is actually the beginning of being put back together by the Lord. "[W]ith anything that is brought into an ordered condition chaos exists at first" (AC 3316).

Sun. January 15th

◆ 10:00am "Sin and Forgiveness of Sin" How do we recognize sin in our own lives, and when can we know that it has been forgiven?

A Word for the Week

"We can be regenerated only gradually. Each and every thing that exists in the physical world serves as an illustration of this fact. A seedling does not grow up into a mature tree in a single day. First there is a seed, then a root, then a shoot, which develops into a trunk; then branches come out of that and develop leaves and finally flowers and fruit. Wheat and barley do not spring up ready for harvest in a single day. A home is not built in a single day. We do not become full grown in a single day; reaching wisdom takes us even longer. The church is not established let alone perfected in a single day. We will make no progress toward a goal unless we first make a start.

People who have a different conception than this of regeneration know nothing about goodwill or faith, or how each of these qualities grows as we cooperate with the Lord. All this makes clear that regeneration progresses analogously to the way we are conceived, carried in the womb, born, and brought up. (True Christianity 586)

Have a blessed week!
