Announcements:

The Volunteer Schedules for the October and November Calendars have changed. Please pick up a new printed Calendar.

A Word for the Week:

Octoberfest: Saturday the 20th of October at 6pm
Come on out for this fun annual social! We're going to have brats, dogs, beers, and some great singalong music! It'll be fun for the whole family!

Semi Annual Meeting: Our semi-annual meeting will be taking place after church on Sunday the 21st of this month. Please stick around to hear about how everything is going this year.

Autumn Classes: The Pastor would like to get your thoughts about topics for classes for the upcoming season. Please let him know if there are any specific topics that you would be really interested in. The two ideas on the table so far are:

- 1) The Doctrine of the Lord - Who exactly is the Lord and how did His incarnation effect our salvation?
- 2) Systematic Theology - Theology should work like a puzzle without any missing pieces. How does it all fit together without contradiction? How can God be pure mercy, and yet there is and eternal hell?

Please tell the pastor if you have any ideas for other topics! Thanks.

A Word for the Week

'A calf' in the Word means the good of innocence and charity within the external or natural man; but when no good of innocence and charity is present, as is the case with those whose interest lies in external things and not in what is internal, 'a calf' means natural delight on the level of the senses, which is a delight belonging to a person's own wishes, desires, self-love, and love of the world. This delight is the one that exists with those whose interest lies in external things and not in what is internal, and the one they worship; for what a person loves above all things, that he worships. They say, it is true, that they worship the God of all creation; but they say it with their lips and not their heart. People such as these are meant by those who worship the calf of molded [metal]. (Arcana Coelestia C 10407)

Have a blessed week!
