Announcements:

Building Renovations

- 1) Thank you to everyone who came out on Saturday to empty out the building!
- 2) Later this week the Building renovation committee will be meeting to discuss some of the finer points of the renovation. After which the committee will be seeking your thoughts on what we discuss. We are going to do our best to incorporate everyones ideas, but please know that not every idea is compatible, and so may not be exactly how any one of us individually want every feature.

A Word for the Week

Since goodness is not genuinely good unless it is united to what is true, it follows that goodness does not become manifest prior to that union, and yet it is constantly trying to become manifest. So in order to become manifest, it longs for and acquires truths for itself. These are the means of its nourishment and its formation. This is why we love what is true to the extent that we are focused on what is good, and accordingly to the same extent that we turn our backs on evils because they are sins; because that determines the extent to which we are focused on what is good. (Life 37)

Have a blessed week!
